1. Missed-call text-back scripts + weekly scorecard (from the $47 Missed-Call Rescue Kit)
2. Google review reply starter set (from the $27 Google Review Reply Pack)

Part 1: Missed-call text-back

The rule: every missed call is a job walking to the next Google result. Text back in 60 seconds or less, and book the same day when you can. Whoever texts first usually wins the job.

First reply (send within 60 seconds of a missed call)

> Hey, sorry we missed you. This is {shop}. Need service today or want to schedule? Reply 1 for today or 2 for later and we'll lock in a time.

After-hours version

> Thanks for calling {shop}. We're closed right now but we got your call. Text us what you need and your address, and we'll reply first thing at {open_time}. Reply URGENT if it's an emergency.

Soft bump (no reply after 2 hours)

> Quick check-in from {shop}: still need help at the house? Reply YES and we'll get you on the board.

Booking confirmation

> You're set for {day} at {time}. Tech: {tech}. Address we have: {address}. Reply STOP to cancel.

30-second callback script (when they call back)

"Hey, this is {name} with {shop}. Saw you needed service. Are you dealing with no cooling, no heat, or a leak right now, or is it something we can schedule this week?" Then: figure out the problem → offer 2 time windows → confirm the address → send the confirmation text.

Phone setup checklist (any carrier)

- [ ] Business line rings phones that someone answers during open hours
- [ ] After 4 rings or busy → forward to a number that can send texts
- [ ] First-reply text loaded with your shop name
- [ ] Calendar link or "reply 1/2" path ready
- [ ] Owner gets a notification when a lead replies

Weekly missed-call scorecard

Metric	Mon	Tue	Wed	Thu	Fri	Sat
Missed calls
Texts sent in 60s or less
Replies
Jobs booked (from missed calls)
Revenue booked ($)

Fill it in once a week and compare week over week. Your numbers are the only ones that matter.

Part 2: Google review reply starter set

Owner rules (tape near the desk)

- Reply to every new review within 24 hours.
- Thank first. Never argue in public.
- Bad review: acknowledge → own the fix → move it offline (phone or text).
- Never post private customer details, argue about prices, or blame a tech by name.
- Never offer anything in exchange for a review, and ask every customer (not only the happy ones).
